BACK ROADS CALL TO BE EXPLORED ON FALL TOUR

The members of the Silver Springs Tour Committee want to stress that they have made a concerted effort to stay on the back roads. They have even tried to avoid the more local state routes. They want this tour to be scenic and drivable for ALL makes and models of cars.

One of the roads in beautiful Henry County - lots of tree lined curving country roads with views of the I & M Canal.

One of the places we will be visiting is the Johnson Sauk Trail State Recreation Area in Kewanee, IL. Located on a glacial moraine that forms the beautiful, rolling hills of Henry County, the park sits astride a trail that led Native Americans from Lake Michigan to the confluence of the Mississippi and Rock rivers. This area features a varied terrain, with rolling hills covered in a mix of hardwoods and pines in the southern half of the park and a flatter landscape with wildlife , plantings, environmental field strips and grasslands making up the northern half of the park.

One of the most unique features of this area is the large, round barn located near the park entrance which is one of the largest round barns in the country. This architectural marvel stands more than 80 feet high and is 85 feet in diameter.

The ceiling of Ryan's Round Barn suggests the underside of a giant mushroom cap.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A member of the Board makes a motion to adopt a plan to further improve and move the Illinois Region forward. While maintaining the rich traditions, this idea is for enhancing and making the Region more appealing for all members. "Second!" says another member of the Board. The President of the Board conducts the vote and it is passed unanimously.

You can be a part of this process. It is that time of year when candidates for the Region Board need to step forward.

As a Board member, you can bring about change that will further improve the Region as well as help to maintain long standing traditions. The Region needs new people to bring new ideas so we can keep moving forward.

Being a Board member provides a sense of accomplishment and service, as well as a chance to foster new relationships with Board members from other Chapters.

This job only requires getting together 5 times a year; the job is NOT physically taxing AND we always have good food.

So RUSH right out to notify your Chapter or Region President that you are volunteering to run for the 2017 Illinois Region Board.

Bring your thoughts to action!
Let's show leadership and camaraderie.

FOX VALLEY TALES

This is a reminder that the Fox Valley Pot luck and Auction is scheduled for the first or second Saturday in October. Not sure of the date at this point in time but will be in next months issue of "SIDELIGHTS".

This is an important meeting for our chapter. Election of officers along with 2017 calendar of events will be determined. So start cleaning out the attic and basement for the auction and get ready for fun and frivolity.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK...

Hi All,
It is time for my annual appeal for more recipes from all the cooks out there.

What I need is that home recipe that you bring to pot lucks, the salad you trot out at family picnics, that special dish that family always expects you to make at holiday time.

Often, when I ask someone for a recipe, they say things like, "Oh I'm not really a good cook." Or I hear, "I don't make anything special."

That's fine. I don't want fancy of special. I want those recipes that are made time and time again because everybody loves them.

So please take a few minutes and send your contribution to me at 4600 Stonewall, Downers Grove, IL 60515 or email me at aacapat@aol.com. I will add the recipe to my list; it may not show up this month, but it will be used somewhere down the line.

Happy Fall and keep those recipes coming.

View of beautiful Sauk Lake

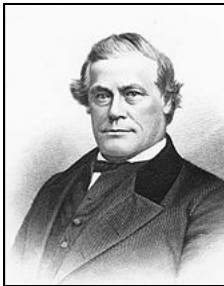

Another stop on the Fall Tour will be the Underground Railroad home of Owen Lovejoy who was an influential abolitionist. Born in Maine, Lovejoy moved to Princeton in 1838 where he was a minister for a Congregationalist Church. Lovejoy had witnessed the shooting death of his brother Elijah, an abolitionist newspaper publisher, which made him even more committed to the cause.

During the 1840s and 1850s, Lovejoy used his home to harbor slaves on their way north and faced prosecution several times. He was quite proud of his opportunities to help slaves flee to freedom and admitted this publicly,

In an 1859 speech in Congress that drew national attention Lovejoy addressed his role in the Underground Railroad directly with, "Owen Lovejoy...aids every fugitive that comes to his door and asks it. Proclaim it then from the house-tops. Write it on every leaf that trembles in the forest, make it blaze from the sun at high noon...I bid you defiance in the name of my God!"

Another stop on the tour will be downtown Princeton where we will have some time to visit the shops and restaurants. There are no national chain stores, none of the market-driven sales and promotions that you've seen in the malls again and again.

Every little store in Princeton is unique,

Owen Lovejoy

Downtown Princeton

and in most of them, it's the owners themselves who will be right there serving you.

Give yourself plenty of time to explore THE two shopping districts, both of which developed in the 1800s as Princeton began to grow. The South Shopping District grew up around Route 6/34, which was once the main route from Chicago to Princeton for horses and carriages (and later, automobiles). The arrival of the railroad fostered growth on the North end of town, where the Art District now thrives.

If you're looking for the perfect gift that nobody else will be giving, you're in the right place. The shops here boast a remarkable and unusual collection of kitchen items and linens, refrigerator magnets, pet accessories, scarves, unique clothing, scrapbooking materials, jewelry, home decorating items, perfumes, garden accessories, handmade candies and specialty popcorns, candles, great wines and liqueurs, stationery, greeting cards, teas, coffees... well, you get the idea!

Here at AACA Headquarters, we hear from our members all the time about how great AACA is. ## THROUGH THE WAUKEGAN-NORTH SHORE WINDSHIELD

BY Dan Helgren

The Pre-War car tour being planned by Waukegan / North Shore chapter and the Illinois Brass Touring Region of AACA will be on Sunday October 2 in Kenosha and Racine counties in Wisconsin. Tour stops are planned. Still working on finding a lunch stop and confirmation for our starting point. Some lovely driving along country roads and driving along Lake Michigan past some historic places involving Wisconsin automotive history.

Another event that we are looking at for the fall will be a drive-in movie night at the McHenry Outdoor Theater. The date is TBD and will be looking at the schedule of movies when they are available later in the year.

Also not an AACA event but one several of our members are involved with is the Lake County Farm Heritage show, which will be on September 24 and 25 at the Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda Illinois. This show features the history of farming in our area with demonstrations of antique farm machinery and crafts as well as a large display of farm tractors, hit and miss engines and antique cars. One of the highlights is the big parade on both days that includes all tractors, cars, trucks and any self propelled equipment with an expert narrator described each piece of equipment and it's history.

SILVER SPRINGS PICNICS AT SHABBONA LAKE STATE PARK

The Silver Springs Chapter gathered together on August 13 to celebrate the ending of summer with a picnic at Shabbona Lake State Park.

In addition to the grilling, talking and laughing, some of the group spent some time on a boat cruising the lake. Good weather, good food and good friends, who could ask for more?

HOW I FOUND MY 1922 COLE - THE "COLE" FACTS PART II

By George Campbell

Note: Part I was in the August issue of Sidelights

So, to shorten the story, we got to Minneapolis and back with absolutely no trouble other than having to add water occasionally. Later in the summer we went to the first annual State Fair Meet. Again, only the minor annoyance of adding the water.

That winter I decided to see if the radiator was plugged up. "Clean as a new one" reported Cliff Beauchamp after testing it carefully. Then I decided to have a go at the water pump. I found that the pin in the impeller had sheared. So. . . I had driven the car about 1500 miles with only thermo-siphon effect! How lucky can you get?

When I had lived in Indianapolis in 1941 I had seen the old factory building of the Cole Company out on East Washington Street, with a freshly painted sign— a replica of the radiator emblem. So, for the heck of it, I wrote the factory to see what was going on, if anything.

Back came a reply from Mr. Cole, son of the original manufacturer. Seems they rent the building but maintain a section of the basement for storage of about 15 Coles of various ages, as well as for a stock of parts which they sold for the maintenance of all the Coles still in use throughout the world. In 1950 there were about 80 still running Coles.

Mr. Cole offered to buy my Cole (also my 1920 parts car which I'd latched onto in Oconomowoc). The following year I found a car which I liked much better, so I contacted Mr. Cole, who sent his son and another lad to drive the two Coles to Indianapolis.

Back to the factory—after 28 years!

There is a sad sequel to this story.

A couple of summers ago Allen and I were in Indianapolis. We phoned Mr. Cole to find out if we could see his collection of cars.

He informed us that a few days previous there had been a cloudburst in the city, causing a flash flood in the vicinity of the factory. Water, to the depth of several feet, had flooded the basement where the cars were stored.

Among other things, the wooden framework of the body was warped out of shape. He was so upset about the situation that he refused to show us any of the cars.

So ends the story of how I found - and disposed of — a 1922 Cole V8 sports touring car.

SHORT TOUR STARTS DAY OF WA-NS PICNIC

Who would think that an August picnic day would start with 60° and jackets! But that is what happened on August 21 when the WA-NS Chapter gathered at McDonalds in Grayslake.

Bright sunshine made up for the cool temperatures in the morning, and it did warm up as the day went on.

The pavilion at Northcroft Park was a perfect place for our gathering and we had a big turnout this year. It was good to see so many of our members gathered together for a good time.

CHOW'S ON!!!

Morning at McDonald's finds Bob & Sue Wenderski, Elaine Axelson and Debbie Smithe starting the day with caffeine and conversation.

Sylvia Lauridsen chats with Gert and Joe Pas-salaqua. We were happy to see them.

Our first stop was the Grayslake Historical Museum. Here Bill Vroman looks over some of the exhibits.

UNION TOUR

By Chris Schurrer

Starting off with wonderful weather on our side, we departed our starting point in Wauconda and went on a "tourette" of 45 minutes to arrive at the 26th Annual Vintage Transportation Extravaganza at the Illinois Railway Museum in Union. AACA had good representation in our section as well as Illinois Region members in every corner of the show.

The Frisco 1630 made its return to the main excursion track and was a sight to see and hear as it passed us at the station. We took to exploration as some of the car show sections were moved around and we stumbled on a hidden and unexpected feature of the show. A group was found standing around talking about a 1990 Yugo parked by itself behind the streetcar barn.

The show had a great turnout with perennial favorites and fresh cars added to the show, with all the trains and streetcars out in full force. If you haven't been to the show or not for a few years, it's definitely something not to miss for next year.

The elusive 1990 Yugo. One can find almost anything at this show. From cars to semis and everything in between.

North Shore #714 loads passengers.
